Packing and Shipping:

Packaging and Shipping

Hybrid EV Cars are packaged in a special box designed to keep the car safe and secure during shipping. The box is made of heavy-duty cardboard and is lined with foam to protect the car from any bumps or shocks during transit. Inside the box, the car is securely strapped down to prevent movement. All components are packed separately in their own boxes and labels for easy identification. The box is then sealed with taped and marked as fragile to ensure that it is handled with care.

Hybrid EV Cars are shipped using a reliable carrier that specializes in shipping fragile items. Before shipment, the cars are inspected thoroughly for any defects or damage. All necessary paperwork is included in the box to ensure a smooth delivery process. Tracking numbers are provided so customers can monitor the progress of their shipment.
